

Wildlife Education Officer

- Full time position
- Unique opportunity working with and handling a variety of native Australian animals
- Present education based programs on native Australian wildlife to visitors and groups in park

The primary responsibility of the Wildlife Education Officer is to present education based programs on native Australian wildlife to local and international visitors and groups in park. Animal handling and husbandry duties are included as well as record keeping and report writing.

Experience with animal handling, conditioning and a good general knowledge of Australian native fauna is required while formal qualifications in education will be highly regarded.

The successful applicant will demonstrate outstanding communication and public speaking skills, a friendly and outgoing personality as well as a high standard of personal presentation.

A current manual driver's licence is necessary and a Blue Card desirable.

Flexibility with working hours is essential as weekend work will be involved. A high level of energy and physical fitness is required to perform manual handling tasks and physically demanding work.

Don't miss out on this rare opportunity! To apply, forward your resume including a one-page summary on-line or to: Human Resources, Dreamworld, Dreamworld Parkway, Coomera 4209.

Applications close: Monday 22nd February 2010